COMMANDER'S REMARKS (12 MAY 2025)

Greetings Companions!!

Great news! Our two nominees for the National Youth Civics Summit, forwarded to National by Region XIII to compete for a slot (Mason Meredith and Vaughn Slivka), were both selected to attend this prestigious and wonderful event! Congratulations to them! We look forward to them returning and giving us a back brief on their experiences!

At the next meeting we will be holding our annual elections, and there will be many openings in the leadership positions. If you have any questions on each of the positions, don't hesitate to contact me or any executive board member for details. Many of us will not be able to be on the executive board this coming year, but are more than ready to help out the new leaders! If you are interested, you are invited to sit in on the monthly staff meeting, held on May 15th at 1700 at the Hill House, 130 Upper Glenway in Palmer Lake...beside the Little Log Church.

In preparation for America 250 in 2026, we have submitted our entry for the 2025 Monument 4th of July Parade. Great dress rehearsal for our Nation's 250th birthday in 2026! Like last year, we are partnering with the Colorado Military History Group for this year's parade and started planning for the 2026 Monument 4th of July Parade.

For our 22 May meeting, in additions to nominations from the floor and voting for the new operating years slate of officers, we are fortunate to have the El Paso County Sheriff, Joe Roybal, speaking to us. Given the national attention Colorado Springs has garnered the last few weeks, this promises to be an very interesting meeting!

Thank you again for the honor and privilege!

V/R,
Kerm

APRIL MEMBERSHIP MEETING (19 APR)

National Security

The Chapter was honored to have Gen Kevin Chilton (Gen, USAF, Ret) present to the Chapter in April. The focus of Gen Chilton's talk was China and their global ambitions. There is a historical resentment by Chinese leadership toward foreign powers, from the Opium Wars in the 1800's to today. Gen Chilton iterated that the world is not paying attention to Government of China statements to invade Taiwan by 2027 and replace the US as the premier world power by 2050. Realizing they can't match the US in a conventional war, China has been targeting the US chain of command, deployment capabilities, and logistics using a policy of Anti Access/Area Denial. This is being accomplished through deployment of numerous spy satellites, counter-space capability development, cyber hacking, industrial espionage, growth of their naval capabilities, and growth of their amphibious capabilities. Gen Chilton opined that we have lost our technological buffer with China due to a focus on anti-terrorism, and that we have also lost our manufacturing edge. Despite the threat China poses, one of their biggest threats is from within. Power and control of their population is vital for Chinese leadership, and the support of their population is a center of gravity. China lacks oil and gas and needs to defend their supply lines and supply chains, which their Belt and Road initiative seeks to achieve. Gen Chilton closed by stating that that US needs to fix our industrial base, educate our population on why Taiwan is an important National Security interest, counter the increase in China's space and cyber capabilities, grow our naval and air forces as air superiority is key with China, grow our strategic nuclear capability with credible theater nuclear weapons, and use all our instruments of national power to blunt China. It was a fascinating presentation, and we are grateful of the leadership Gen Chilton has provided, and still provides, to our Nation!

MAY MEMBERSHIP MEETING (19 Apr) Public Safety/Law and Order

The guest speaker for this month's meeting is Sheriff Joseph Roybal. His career with the El Paso County Sheriff's Office started in October 1995. His early assignments within the Detention Bureau included serving as a Deputy in the Security Division, member of the Special Response Team, and Court and Transport Deputy at the El Paso County Courthouse.

In April of 2010, he was promoted to the rank of sergeant, and had the privilege to serve in various capacities within the Office. As a Sergeant, he served as supervisor in the Security Division, Internal Affairs Investigator, Public Information Officer, Legislative Liaison, and oversaw the Concealed Handgun Program.

Sheriff Roybal was promoted to lieutenant in March of 2014, and returned to familiar assignments in Internal Affairs, the Court and Transport Section, and as the Special Response Team Leader. As lieutenant, he was given the opportunity to expand his experience and served the community as a member of Metro Vice, Narcotics, and Intelligence (VNI). While serving in VNI, he was responsible for a Street Impact Team, a Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) Team, and Marijuana Regulatory efforts.

Sheriff Roybal takes pride in his service to the Pikes Peak region. He has served on various community boards and committees within the area. These include: El Cinco De Mayo Inc, Community Corrections Board, Healthy Engaged and Living Sober (H.E.A.L.S.) Court member, and School District 49 Woodmen Hills Elementary School Safety Committee. The Sheriff has volunteered as a youth football coach for decades and mentored young people identified as needing assistance and intervention.

Additionally, Sheriff Roybal is a proud graduate of the 278th session of the FBI National Academy.

Sheriff Roybal has been married to his wife, Melissa, for over 23 years. They have five children and five grandchildren. He was born and raised in Colorado Springs and is a Palmer High School graduate. El Paso County is home to Sheriff Roybal, and he considers it the honor of his lifetime to serve as the 29th Sheriff of El Paso County.

NATIONAL SECURITY (NS)

President Trump signed Executive Order (EO) Declaring a National Emergency at the Southern Border of the United States (link to EO). Declaring a national emergency at the Southern border through an EO can have significant ramifications for national security, potentially leading to increased military presence, enhanced border enforcement, and altered immigration policies. These changes can have both intended and unintended consequences for national security, including enhanced security measures and potential disruptions to the economy and social fabric.

Potential Positive Impacts:

- Enhanced Border Security: An EO can authorize the deployment of additional military personnel and resources to the border, potentially leading to more effective interception of illegal crossings and drug trafficking.

- Streamlined Enforcement: The EO could enable law enforcement to act more swiftly against cartel leaders and other criminal organizations, potentially weakening their influence and capacity.
- Improved Coordination: The EO could facilitate better coordination between federal agencies, including DHS and the Department of Defense, leading to a more unified approach to border security.

Potential Negative Impacts:

- Disruptions to the Economy and Social Fabric: Increased scrutiny at the border and potentially stricter immigration policies could impact trade, business, and family separations.
- Increased Government Spending: The deployment of military resources and enhanced enforcement efforts could lead to significant financial burdens for the government.

- Potential for Abuse of Power: The EO could grant broad powers to the executive branch, potentially leading to concerns about civil liberties and the rule of law.
- Increased Tension with Mexico: Actions taken under the EO could strain relations with Mexico, potentially leading to retaliatory measures.
- Focus on One Issue: The redirection of resources to the southern border could potentially impact other national security priorities and leave other vulnerabilities unaddressed.

HOMELAND SECURITY

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Impact of EO National Emergency Declaration at Southern Border

Presidential EO impacts DHS, having several ramifications, including increased military presence, potential restrictions on immigration, and shifts in national security priorities. It also affected federal funding, agency coordination, and the invocation of specific laws and regulations. Following are some impacts on DHS:

USCG C-130's used to transport illegal aliens.

- Increased Military Support: The President can order the Department of Defense (DOD) to support DHS in securing the border, potentially deploying troops and resources to augment Customs and Border Protection (CBP).
- Enhanced Border Security: The EO can mandate enhanced physical barriers, increased personnel, and expanded detention and removal operations.

- Revised Policies and Strategies: The President may order DHS to revise policies and strategies to address the perceived emergency, including potentially expanding detention capacities and

USCG increases operations along southwest border between US and Mexico implementing Presidential EO Emergency Declaration accelerating removal processes.

- Coordination with Other Agencies: The declaration may necessitate increased coordination between DHS and other federal agencies, such as the Department of Justice, to address the perceived crisis.

Potential Ramifications:

- Increased Detention and Removal: The executive order might lead to a surge in detentions and removals of individuals encountered at the border, particularly those deemed inadmissible or facing expedited removal procedures.
- Changes in Immigration Policies: The declaration could trigger changes in immigration policies, potentially including temporary restrictions on certain types of immigration, suspension of existing programs, or expedited processing of certain cases.
- Federal Funding and Appropriations: The national emergency declaration could lead to changes in federal funding priorities, potentially redirecting funds to border security efforts and other relevant areas.
- Legal Challenges: The EO and any related actions could face legal challenges, potentially leading to court cases and judicial scrutiny of the administration's actions.
- International Relations: The declaration and the actions taken to enforce it could impact the U.S.'s relationship with neighboring countries, particularly Mexico, and could raise concerns about human rights and international law.

PUBLIC SAFETY/LAW & ORDER (PS/L&O)

EO declared a national emergency at the southern border, and this was coupled with the deployment of the military and plans to deputize local law enforcement. This order, "Protecting the American People Against Invasion," aims to address what the administration views as a crisis situation, potentially involving increased detention and deportation of undocumented immigrants. Here's a more detailed breakdown:

- National Emergency Declaration: The presidential order declared a national emergency at the southern border, citing an "invasion" and threatening the national security interests of the United States.
- Military Deployment: DOD is supporting the DHS in securing the border, potentially including the deployment of troops.
- Deputizing Local Law Enforcement: The order also involves expanding the use of Section 287(g), which allows local law enforcement to enforce federal immigration law, effectively deputizing them for ICE.

- Increased Detention and Deportation: The EO is expected to lead to increased detention and deportation efforts, including the construction of new detention facilities.
- Reinstatement of Remain in Mexico: The order also calls for reinstating the Migrant Protection Protocols, commonly known as Remain in Mexico, where asylum seekers would be required to wait in Mexico while their cases are processed in the US.

Key Considerations:

- Legal Challenges: The EO is likely to face legal challenges, particularly regarding the use of Section 212(f) of the INA, which grants the president broad discretion to restrict entry of non-citizens.
- Humanitarian Concerns: Critics of the order express concerns about the humanitarian implications of increased detention, including the potential for poor conditions in detention facilities and the impact on vulnerable populations.
- State and Local Involvement: The deputization of local law enforcement raises questions about the balance of power between federal and state/local authorities and the potential for states to resist these federal mandates.
- Funding: The order may require additional funding, including for the construction of new detention facilities and the implementation of the Remain in Mexico program.
